BIOAGRONOMIC CHARACTERISTICS

MAXI VEG is a nutritional biostimulant of plant origin that adapts to all types of crops and all types of soils in which it is applied.

The product has an "osmo-regulatory" activity, i.e. it helps the plant to reduce and overcome water stress, has a high presence of amino acids that stimulate the plant in cell multiplication at the time of vegetative growth and fruit. It has a high presence of organic nitrogen that allows a balanced foliar and soil nutrition for root development. It has a high presence of proteins that allows a higher quality of the fruit and a greater self-life.

It should be applied in all crops at critical stages of development: pre-flowering, fruit set, fruit enlargement. It can also be applied by root in combination with microorganisms, increasing and promoting the biological activity of the soil and leaf apparatus, thanks to its solution rich in natural substances.

FINAL RESULT

- General reactivation of the plant.
- Stimulation of nutritional absorption.
- Reduction of thermal and water stress.
- Improvement in active root formation.

DOSES AND METHOD OF USE

FOLIAR DOSE: 1-2 kg/ha
RADICAL DOSE: 4-6 kg/ha

Repeat the intervention every time situations are created in order to stimulate the plant to increase photosynthesis and production.

APPLICATIONS

- It should be applied either with fertigation hose or foliar.

WARNINGS

- The product is miscible with most agrochemicals, with products containing copper, it is necessary, in any case, to perform a test before application. The manufacturer is not liable for damage caused by improper use of the product.
